VEGETABLES SCARCE IN LENINGRAD -- Leningradskaya Pravda, No 169, 20 Jul 49

Even though it is summer and the height of the growing season, it is very difficult to buy fresh vegetables in Leningrad stores. This is the responsibility of trade organizations. There are many trade organizations in Leningrad which are charged with the task of supplying fresh vegetables to the population. Among the larger organizations are "Lenzagotplodoovoshchtorg" Leningrad Fruit and Vegetable Procurement Market), Administration of Scaples Trade, Suburban Agriculture Trust, and Leningrad Vegetable Trust. In June these organizations sent only 750 tons of fresh vegetables to the city instead of 1,371 tons as planned. Leningrad is now receiving only 150 tons of vegetables per day instead of 300 tons as planned.

This is largely the result of the failure of trading and procurement organizations to draw up agreements with farmers on the system of supplying fresh vegetables. A significant part of vegetables for Leningrad must be brought in from other oblasts and republics. "Lenzagotplodoovoshchtorg" has established only one office outside of Leningrad Oblast. This office, which is in Krasnodar and has a staff of 68 persons, has sent only two carloads of cabbages to Leningrad this summer.
